

From Roof to Earth.
The Midnight Frolic
In Daylight Setting,
At Great Neck, L.I.
The Frolicers are May Leslie and Margaret Morris.

Photos by Edward L. Avery

May Leslie is watching the approach of a field mouse. Ready with the drop.

Even the dog couldn't stay away from Margaret Morris when she paced the Hoop Skirt Minuet.

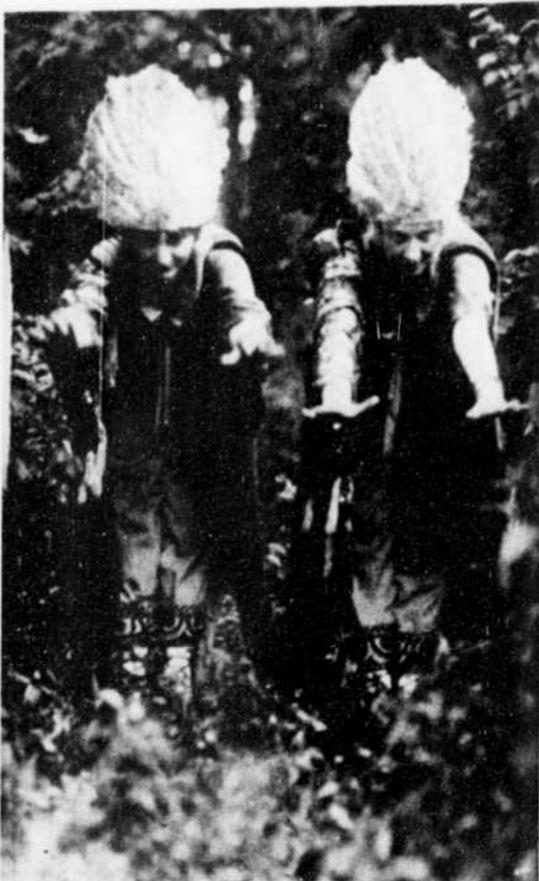

May Leslie showing Great Neck one of the Hoop Skirt steps that brings down the New Amsterdam roof.

When Margaret Morris stoops to conquer, even the willow weeps over lost opportunity.

When the light house-keeper saw this he put out the light.

The Invocation. It was addressed to the photographer and was: "Hurry up. Mosquitoes!"

The outdoor dressing room scene from "When Great Neck Rubbers."